REVETAS WINS AWARDS AT PROPERTY INVESTOR EUROPE (PIE) AWARDS 2018

Revetas, a specialist real estate investment manager focusing on the Central and Eastern Europe ('CEE') region, announces it has won two awards at PIE's European Property Investor Awards 2018.

Scooping the accolades for 'Best Fund of the Year' in both the 'Value-add' and 'Opportunistic' categories, Revetas fended off competition from a number of reputable firms in the industry.

The annual awards recognise and honour outstanding performance in European commercial real estate and are judged by a distinguished panel of real estate professionals.

Eric Assimakopoulos, Managing Partner, Revetas, commented, "Winning these awards was only possible thanks to the commitment and dedication of each and every one of our team members across the region and the ongoing trust and support of our investors and business partners. We are absolutely delighted that all our efforts and hard work has been recognised at such a prominent event."

The awards ceremony took place at the Plaisterer's Hall in London on 14 June.

About Revetas

Revetas is a real estate investment manager executing a specialised strategy targeting distressed, undervalued, value-add and opportunistic assets in Central and Eastern Europe ('CEE'). The firm was founded in 2012 and is led by Managing Partner Eric Assimakopoulos together with his senior management team, who have been operating in the region for over 16 years. The business operates from London, Vienna and Luxembourg.

Revetas manages and invests capital on behalf of a global investor base comprising institutional investors, endowment funds, pension funds and ultra-high net worth individuals. It targets well located real estate assets with the potential to benefit from active asset management initiatives and additional capital investment. Revetas focuses on commercial property, including office, retail, hospitality and logistics, as well as residential assets.
